SECRETARY Blaine has ordered his residence in Washington made ready for his occupancy October 1.

By a vote of fifty-six to thirty-six the Lady Managers of the World's fair favor closing the exposition on Sundays.

Tar Republican party seems bent on exhausting the Treasury before the Democrats can get a hold on it in '92.

How William Wilson, one of the best known criminal lawyers in Kentucky, died at his home in Elizabethtown last week.

Who is running the Republican machine in this city? Is it the Louisville Custom House, Geo. Jolly or Logan Murray?

This Constitutional Convention deserves to be having a world of trouble in shaping the new instrument to suit their taste.

The removal of Miss Henry from the post-office in this city will loss the county for Mr. Harrison. Goo. Jolly can paste this in his hat.

The Louisville Conference, of the M. E. Church, South, will meet at Coalton, Trig county, to-day. Bishop Wilson, of Baltimore, will preside.

Isn't it quite a slam on the Republicans of this city that none of them should have been invited in the discussion of the post-office matter.

Cirr. Billy Ahi is a good Republican and a faithful worker for his party. But it seems that he is not "in it" when it comes to the disposition of the party.

The Frankfort correspondent of the Courier Journal says that the Constitutional delegates who now go to their homes every Saturday, walk up and pay their railroad fare. At the last session nearly all of them carried a pass.

The Republican party is trying to regain its hold in Kansas where it was knocked out by the Farmers' Alliance a year ago. As a bid for future favors this remarkable assertion is made: "Kansas is marvelously in this history, matches in resources and magnificence in its achievements." All of which must be set down to the credit of the Republican party. Well, somebody should turn the house on 'em.

The annual reunion of the "Orphan Brigade" at Owenton was a great success. The day was perfect and Owenton bore special hospitality with a lavish hand. The "Orphan Brigade" as it marched, fought and bled through the war of the confederacy, made a remarkable history. Every year its trials and triumphs are retold with fresh and absorbing interest. The meeting next year will be held at Park, Ky.

It is said that the hold-over Senators in the next Legislature and those who have been in the habit of attending regular sessions of the Legislature during Gov. Buckner's regime will sadly miss this winter one feature that characterized them. The famous punch in that immense old punch bowl will not have a successor. Mrs. Brown has issued the decree that the Gubernatorial abode during the new regime shall be strictly and uniformly prohibited.

Tur jeans manufacturers of the country are running their factories on time, hoping probably that the coming winter may be as cold as last. The last year or two has been pretty bad for jeans manufacturers, it is true, but we can't see that it has had any perceptible effect upon the cut of men's pants. Men are compelled to wear pants of some description, if the manufacturer of jeans finally goes to the wall.

It was understood by the people generally that when the Constitutional Convention re-assembled, it would be for the purpose of correcting some few inaccuracies in the instrument and then adjourn. But from the number of adjournments, the legislature could not be made and the wide range of discussion that has come up over them, it seems hard to tell when the people will get a new Constitution. They adopted the instrument by over 138,000 majority, yet the delegates think it is not yet just what they ought to have and are still making amendments and changes in it. When they do get it shaped to suit them they should be kind enough to let us know.

As little as we may think of it the last ten years have witnessed remarkable changes in Breckinridge county's industrial and mercantile prosperity. Back in the seventies when we transported all of our products and merchandise by water and waited three days for the return of the post there was much growing and grubbing, and many dissatisfied people.

To-day we get lightning express. Every mail is on the road. Telegrams take long to get there. Sixty miles of railroad span that border of our country, and there's scarcely a village of any note that its accommodations do not reach. Every day brings forth new enterprises and seemingly develops richer avenues for the accumulation of wealth. With bountiful crops that nature has so lavished upon us, and with all things moving in a quiet orderly way there is no reason why we shouldn't be contented and fairly prosperous.

Postmaster General Wanamaker has written to every postmaster under him for statistics concerning the registering of letters. His idea is to reduce the present registration fee. Some years ago the fee was reduced from ten cents to five cents, but the reduction did not last long.

Beware of Statements for Carrara that contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do to ten fold the value of the article does not make it worth while.

Hath Cataract Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hath's Cataract Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.

The new jail, when completed will be one of the prettiest in the city.

There are a number of folks who will want to occupy it next term, and a whole field of candidates is looked for.

A pretty big sum for damages was filed in the Circuit Court last Monday. James W. Easton is the complainant and sued George W. Jordan, ex-Marshall, of the City of Cloverport and his bondsmen for $1000 damage, for alleged false imprisonment.

Death of W. H. Perrin.

The News joins its fellow members of the press in expressing sorrow over the passing of the 4th of November, from material fever. He had been in New Orleans engaged in collecting material for a history of Louisiana and not being acclimated, he became a victim of the malarial fever of the South, and had to return. In a few weeks after his return he died.

Mr. Perrin was a native of this country and we all knew him, and were proud of his achievements as an editor and historian, and deeply mourn his untimely death, when it seemed he had many years of usefulness and larger fame before him.

Gratifying to All.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Fig, the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based and are abundantly gratifying to the Califon

Fig Syrup Company.

The Post-Office Flurry.

The excitement and flurry over the request of the post office in this city has about subsided. Miss Henry has had only one cry over the matter which was perfectly natural under the circumstances, coming as it did so suddenly and without warning from any quarter. She likes to give the place up, but would not do it, after holding it for so long a time in a position not fitting her hair, but in addition to her loss of time, she has incurred a loss of money, and will yield up the honor to the next incumbent as gracefully and pleasantly as though nothing had happened. Miss Henry has held the office much longer than she had a right to expect, being an appointee of Mr. Cleveland's administration.

The officials are as yet the same.

They recognize in Miss Matthews so far as conducting the business is concerned, a good appointment. She is fully competent to run the office, but she is not their choice. Her appointment does not reflect any political weight, and while removing one good woman, they desired more than merely to get another good woman.

As far as the News is concerned it is not our funeral. We wish for the public interest a good official to lick stamps, and we are content.

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1861.

A CLOVERPORT WOMAN.

What She Sees and Hears to Write About.

It is time for the pulpit and press to speak out against such law and the loose and reckless administration of our State and city laws. Dr. Hemphill, of Louisville has preached a very powerful and beautiful sermon upon the subject, and it will be copied and followed by the ministers everywhere. In every town, every man, woman and child could have and realize the injustices perpetrated by mob law. Give old down-trodden Justice a chance to wipe the tears of shame from her eyes.

Executive Mansion will now be gay and giddy, and socially we predict the Administration to excel that of any other, for in the Governor's charming wife and his wife there is no equal. Other Governors were not so fortunate in this respect, and of course, naturally sacred to make their administrations less prominent and attractive than they would have been. However, its halls will resound with no merriment or happy music than the laughter of our dear Little Bolivar, retelling "Long life to the bonny, bright-eyed lad!"

* * *

Gov. Brown is the first to serve under the new Constitution. The old ones lasted forty years. Under nine Governors were elected and served out their terms. Of these, four survive—Buckner, Knott, McCreevy and Leslie.

There is much to commend in these old-school Governors, living and dead to arouse admiration for the time covered by their administration embraced the darkest period of Kentucky's and the nation's history.

Three checks for our noble "country boy," Jack Gross, and we do hope he got his Pennsylvania bouquet. We could have furnished him one much cheaper from old Breckenridge.

There is a difference between a colored man and a "coon." The former is honest, industrious, and respected by the white race, who would rather steal than work, and doesn't care what people think of him. It is the "coon" who reflects discredit upon the colored people, and the sooner we get rid of them, the better for the higher class of colored people in the town generally. Away with the "coon!"

* * *

To see how the ladies throng a church to witness a marriage ceremony argues more interest in the wedding than the salvation of a soul.

We wish to inform the people, those interested in Cloverport, that our Kinder-garten is not a failure; because the "Hem" has gone and chosen another nest and the cackling huddled to some extent, is no reason why another bird can not be found to hover over our little brood.

Alas! for our City Council, that they love frogs. Two old sows with twenty pigs in the corner in the West End came very near causing a horse to run away with a buggy, containing several children.

* * *

Such mischieves as hog-raising on the streets should be wiped off of existence. No other city or town would allow it. Shame on a town that has good laws and will not enforce them! Quite a number of people have lost their gardens completely and entirely flattening these terrible frogs. They are "keep your gates shut." They are "educated," and can open a gate as well as a boy.

Overfeeding Hogs.

Many seem to think that a hog cannot be overfed and that it makes no difference if they do leave a lot of feed at one meal, they will eat it all next meal. When they are hungry, as is often the case, nothing wasted later all, says a writer in the Swineherd. But it is easily possible to go to the other extreme—to either feed too little, so as not to secure a steady gain, or to feed to much and so increase the cost as to materially lessen the profits. Feeding too little is a loss while feeding too much is a waste. It is good to have an economical plan to feed regularly, stated times and then feed when fattening all they can eat clean. They will keep healthier and thrive better than is possible by keeping feed before them all the time. It is what the animals digest, not what they eat, that determines the gain in proportion to the amount of food fed. Feeding too much is a loss, at least, distasteful to a hog, while it is kept before feeding it will ferment and get sour to more or less extent. The hog, whether growing or fattening should relish his food to derive the most benefit from it. And they will hardly do this if they eat what they want, go away and leave the animals obliged to eat clean and eat it up.

This is not economical feeding, and when the margin of the profit is small, as it is this year, the waste in feeding this way will greatly, if not entirely, cut off the possibility of profit. It is an important item at all times to feed stock well and fattening stock especially, as all they eat clean should be supplied with a good diet, in order to secure as good a growth as possible, but beyond this it is unprofitable to go. Provide good tight troughs, feeding slopes and soft feed for every kind, and generally it will pay to provide tight fairs for feeding, so that the animals may have feed and free access. No gains can be made that may by any means be considered applicable under all conditions. Generally the ration must be determined with each lot of hogs on every farm, and the careful breeder should know the amount that should be given with more certainty than any one else. But whether hogs are fed in a clean pen or in a good pasture they should be fed liberally, but without waste.—Danville Advocate.

A DUTY OF LIFE.

It is surprising that people will use a common ordinary pill when they can secure a valuable English one for the same money. Dr. Acker's English pills are a positive care for sick-headache and all liver trouble. They are small, sweet, easy taken, and do not grip. Sold by G. W. Short, Cloverport, Ky., and Witt & Meador, Hardinsburg, Ky.

SIMILES.

The office that seeks the man is generally the police office.—Puck.

The drinking man thinks with Longfellow "Life is reet."—Columbus Post.

A friend in need is a friend who generally strikes you for a quarter.—Texas Siftings.

You never tried DeWitt's Little Early Risers for constipation, biliousness, sick headache or you would not have these diseases.—Sold by G. W. Short.

Gamblers will also pack eggs when they get them a chance.—New Orleans Picayune.

Men, no, wearing a soap doesn't indicate pain in the stomach.—Columbus Post.

All the babies born without socks in Kansas should be named Jerry Simpson.—Arkansas Gazette.

DeWitt's Sarsaparilla cures the blood, increases the appetite and tones up the system. It has benefited many people who have suffered from blood disorders. It will help you.—Sold by G. W. Short, Cloverport, Ky., and Witt & Meador, Hardinsburg, Ky.

America has the finest grain crop in her history, and there is a dearth in the great grain-producing countries of Europe. Had the Mills bill become a law, and were it in operation to-day, the West would be relieved of that mountain of grain which American grain-growers have been staggering for years. By a tariff protection of 60 per cent, even a big American crop and a short European crop will afford precious little relief. Next year may be a fat year for Europe and a lean year for America; if so, our grain-growing States will have to set about putting their poor-houses in order.—Louisville Times.

The savages never have a doctor, but use certain herbs for their ailments. The Indians have a good deal of knowledge, worthy of imitation.—Lightning Balm Elixir is a vegetable blood medicine and will heal cuts, scrofula and syphilis ulcers pimples on face and purify the system. All dealers sell it. Sold by G. W. Short.

A man no sooner gets old enough to know how to talk well than he also learns the value of not talking at all.—The Mock.

"A maiden fair to sea," is what the young man remarked when he met his friend on an ocean voyage.—Yonkers Standard.

A man with a wooden leg ought to be a success as a political orator, as he is always going on the stump.—Baltimore American.

One of the greatest tests of good nature is the quantity of sympathy a man can stand without losing his temper.—Washington Star.

Never disturb a contemplative man. It is never safe to approach too near a man of thought when it is in motion.—Edinburgh and London Review.

Don't suffer your children to suffer with a cough, when "C. C. C. Certain Cough Cure" cures all cough and cold sufferers.

For subscription we take fobs, shucks or anything. We'll give you the paper three months for a little elephant.—Tennville Ga. Error.

Thousands and tens of thousands of bottles of "C. C. C. Certain Chill Cure" are sold yearly and the people are constantly changing for more. They know a good thing when they try it. Sold by Short & Hayes.

THE CON. CON.

FIVE PAGES DAILY.

We tender to the members of the Con. Cons. assurances of our most distinguished consideration and sincere sympathy in this hour of their painful bereavement. We learn that their free passes are no longer recognized by railroad conductors, and that they have to pay their fare as do ordinary mortals. We mourn with our friends.—Frankfort Capital.

THEY HAVE A RIGHT TO SMILE.

They are well pleased with themselves, and they have the right to be. The people of Kentucky have so much confidence in them that they accepted their work by an immense majority without having inspected it. The immortals have a full, free right to smile.—Frankfort Capital.

THEIR NO TIME FOR DEBATE.

The Committee on Slavery have agreed to come from the Constitution the local option section, which, according to many does not local option. The debate on the report of the committee, therefore, to be long drawn out, and the Journals desire to call the attention of the public to the fact that at the time of the assembling of the Legislature, to rapidly approaching, and there isn't room in Frankfort for both bodies.—Stanford Interior Journal.

IT IS THE BEST!

There is no Time for Debate. The Committee on Slavery have agreed to come from the Constitution the local option section, which, according to many does not local option. The debate on the report of the committee, therefore, to be long drawn out, and the Journals desire to call the attention of the public to the fact that at the time of the assembling of the Legislature, to rapidly approaching, and there isn't room in Frankfort for both bodies.—Stanford Interior Journal.

PREMIUMS.

THE Premiums this year practically the same as last year, which assures a maintenance of the high standard of Excellent Exhibitions in the amphitheatre of Horses, Cattle, Sheep and Hogs.

FLORAL HALL.

IT is the desire of the Fair Company to approach as near as possible the idea of an exposition in the Floral Hall Department. In addition to the premiums offered on all products of the Farm, Garden and Handwork of the Housewife, Artist and Seamstress, liberal inducements are given to exhibitors of Musical Instruments, Sewing Machines, Elegant and Costly Merchant's Display, Etc.
